Foreword

IN OUR THEME WE HAVE ATTEMPTED TO DO TWO THINGS. PRIMARILY, WE HAVE TRIED TO EVALUATE AND IDENTIFY PICTORIALLY THOSE FACETS OF OUR UNIVERSITY LIFE WHICH INFLUENCE EACH AND EVERYONE OF US. FURTHERMORE, WE HAVE RELATED THESE FACETS AND DIVIDED THEM SO THAT THEY WOULD FALL INTO THE FOUR DIVISIONS OF THIS BOOK. OUR THEME WAS CAST WITH THESE TIMES IN MIND—TIMES WHEN IT HAS BECOME MORE IMPORTANT THAN EVER TO CONSCIOUSLY APPRAISE THE EQUIPMENT AND IDEALS WITH WHICH WE HOPE TO DEPART.

Our Education Was Primary

"on the hill" we acquired a few answers and many new questions; there also we absorbed something of the personality of those who taught us and those who guided us.

Our Closest Associations

were centered in the fraternal organizations. Priding themselves on accomplishments in leadership, scholarship, and athletic prowess, they stimulated friendly rivalry between the groups and inspired betterment through competition.

Our Vast Athletic Program

provided enjoyment for all, spectator and participant alike. With few exceptions all students took part in some phase of athletics. Skill and good sportsmanship were our natural derivatives.

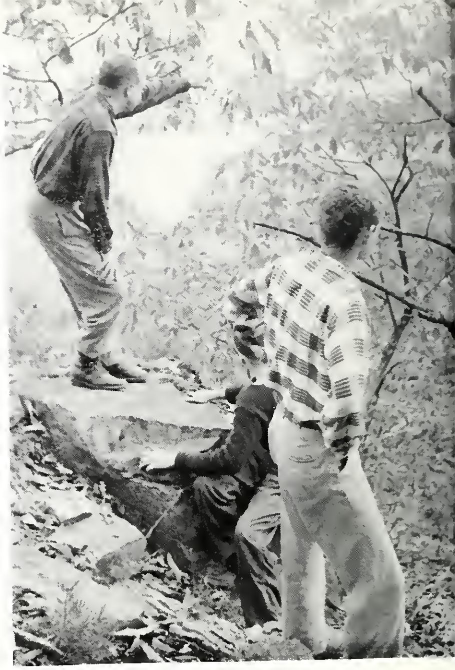
Our Extra Curricular Opportunities

gave to those interested a chance to develop leadership and to gain valuable experience. The fruits of their labor added immeasurably to the "other side" of campus life.



Dedication

In Tribute to Achievement

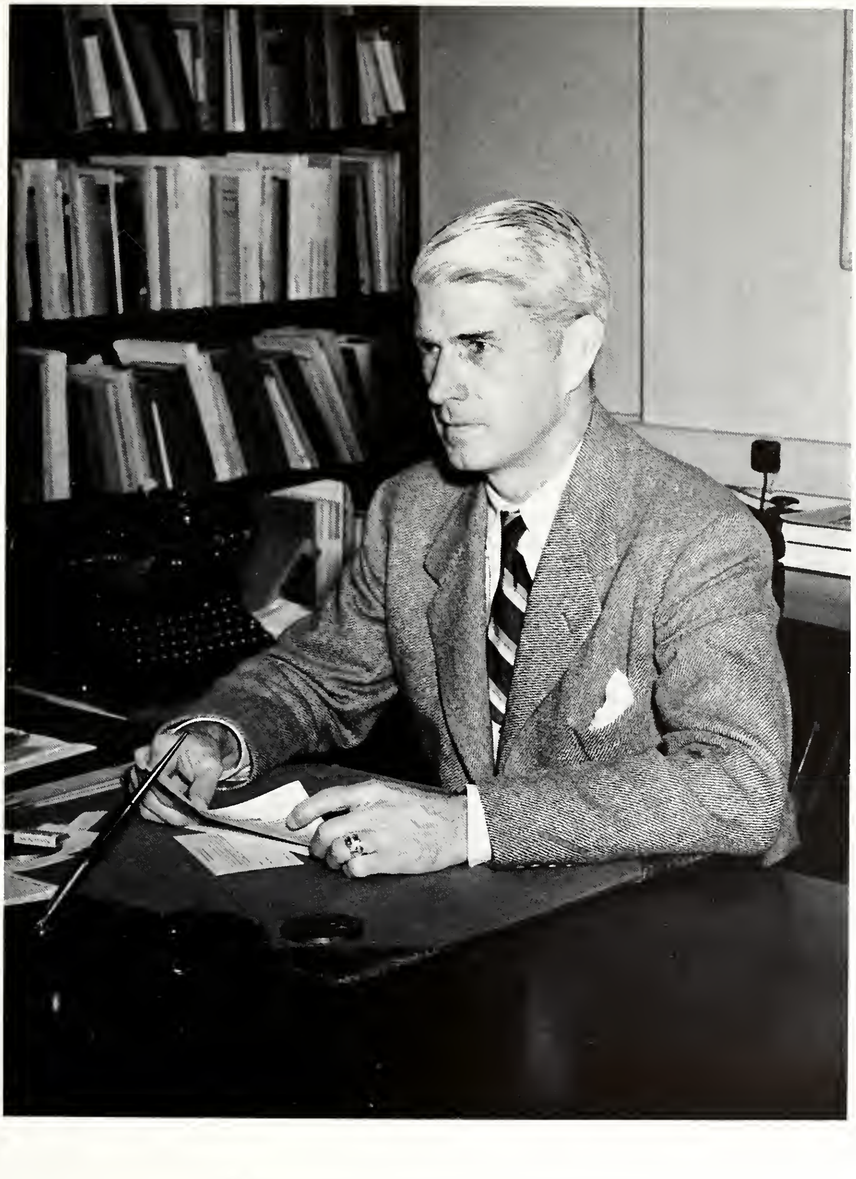
Our theme has been concerned with a restatement of many ideals and values with which our University imbues us during our sojourn here. These qualities do not happen to exist at Washington and Lee, they are the result of sacrifices made by the superior minds and personalities which have gone to mold the traditions of this College.

We are fortunate and secure in the realization that in the uncertainty of the future, Washington and Lee can be administered with the same quality of leadership with which her history abounds.

One man especially, for his earnest effort toward the achievement of a greater and richer heritage for our College, calls forth our praise and sincerest respects. In his four years as Dean of the University, his intellectual enthusiasm and his attentive leadership have been dedicated to the task of building a wider opportunity for undergraduates and future students alike. His versatile capacities have become manifest in all phases of campus life—from the larger and more impersonal aspects, to those touching upon the very lives of the students. His sympathetic attention and invaluable counsel has been at our constant disposal.

The 1951 Calyx is dedicated as a tribute to a friendly administrator—a distinguished educator and a builder for our future

DEAN JAMES GRAHAM LEYBURN



Dean James Graham Leyburn

PRESIDENT

"There also we absorbed something of the personality of those who taught us . . ."

The University

THE PRESIDENT

DR. FRANCIS PENDLETON GAINES

To the Class of 1951:

These have been, I am sure, fruitful years. Like your predecessors of the two centuries, you have taken lingering glances down long vistas of antique culture, you have conquered stubborn problems of the mental disciplines, you have walked, enriched by friendship and guided by honor, the campus ways of beauty.

Your own academic history has included, however, a special chapter. You have been compelled to learn a difficult lesson; to plan intelligently and courageously the shortened step because a veil of uncertainty obscures our future; to perform competently the little duty of personal aspiration when world-shaking issues command and disturb our anxious minds.

Your mastery of this task elicits the admiration of us all. Your record in these troubled years is mastery and promise. I recall the great assurance: "Thou has been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things."

THE SQUAD OF 1950

The fall of 1950 brought with it one of the most memorable football seasons that General rooters have ever enjoyed. The Blue and White Team was an expertly balanced squad whose offensive and defensive platoons were equally capable and shared the honors throughout the entire season. Coach George Barclay's charges, ran from a superbly geared Split T formation. The Generals were characterized by finess and power, which stemed from a lethal combination of Bocetti's ball-handling and Michaels' crushing force through the line. Defensively, Washington and Lee could rely on a stalwart wall composed of men such as Conard, Thompson, Carpenter and Thomas. Throughout the season the inspiration and leadership of Co-Captains Fergusson and McCutcheon proved both instrumental and invaluable. Although the season record in itself was gratifying, this was not the climax of the fall which came rather as a result of the Conference Title, the Gator Bowl Bid and finally from our high national ranking.

FURMAN. 6

Broyles into the Furman line.

Coach George Barclay's boys proceeded to help themselves to 27 points, 362 yards on the ground, and a resounding victory over Furman in their first game of the 1950 season.

Michaels got the first touchdown of the game on a four yard slam over tackle after the Generals had marched 82 yards in ten plays, in the first quarter. Fumbles cost the Washington and Lee team several other opportunities to score, and Furman's vaunted backfield grabbed itself a touchdown before the half ended. Neither team made good its extra point try in the first half.

Furman muggs Holt.

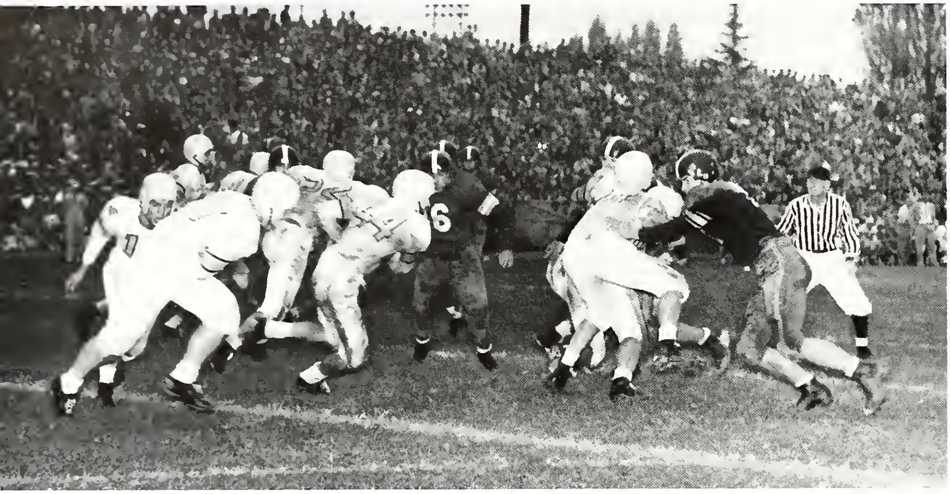
It looked like it might be a close ball game until—to usurp a jazz expression—Bob Thomas broke it up early in the second half by recovering a Furman fumble on Furman's twenty yard line. From this point on, Washington and Lee began to demonstrate that they were going to be very much a football team in this season. Four plays after our recovery Michaels scored again. He converted successfully for what was to be the first of three extra points for him that afternoon.

Furman punted soon after our second score, and a sophomore by the name of Broyles made a spectacular runback. Charlie Holt moved into the fullback slot that Michaels had been using to our opponents disadvantage, and rambled off on several fine runs. Inside of three minutes star quarterback Gil Bocetti was in a position to sneak across the goal for the General's third touchdown.

Spectacular running by Holt and Broyles plus magical ball handling by Bocetti set up Washington and Lee's last touchdown of the afternoon. Once again the extra point was good, and Furman remained unable to gain on the ground. As the game ended Furman had passed the ball into our territory but was unable to add to their point total.

The stage was set for the General's greatest season since 1934.

W & L 26
WEST VIRGINIA . . 7



George plugs hole.

Lynchburg was the scene of W & L's second triumph of the season. It was the Blue team's fifth win in fifty-five years of competition with the much bigger West Virginia University team. The final score read 26 to 7.

Pass defense was the keynote of this victory. Dave Waters intercepted three Mountaineer passes, and Jim Stark spent more time knocking passes down that afternoon, than opposing coach Art Lewis did bemoaning the new found power of the General ball club.

Ray Leister passed to Dave Hedge for the first blue score, and after Michaels' try was wide for the extra digit the General rooters sat back to savor their 6 point lead. Randy Broyles gave the Lexington fans another cause for hysteria when he scored following a pass interception by Stark. It was little Charlie Holt's key block that allowed Broyles to cross the six point stripe standing up.

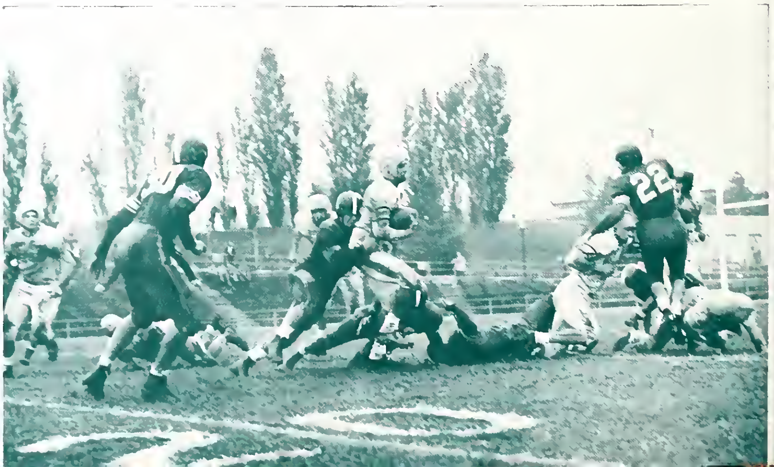
With only three minutes remaining in the first half, Waters managed another interception of a West Virginia pass. Bocetti led an air-ground attack that was culminated by Leister's three yard touchdown smack over tackle. The extra point kick was—one more jazz expression—solid and sweet. At halftime Washington and Lee was 19 points ahead of favored West Virginia.

One minute after the Mountaineers' fatal mistake of allowing the Blue team to handle the ball, we had another touchdown. This time Bocetti used his famous optional keep play to garner six for himself. Point was solid and sweet again. "26," said a delirious spectator. "26, this is going to be the year."

This time we kicked off to West Virginia, a much better arrangement as far as the Mountaineers were concerned. This time the passes clicked for them, and they got themselves their only touchdown of the game. Their try for the point was accurate.

Neither team scored in the fourth period, and W & L had its second win.

Michaels and line jar Mountaineers.



Fumbles were costly against V. P. I. on a rainy Homecoming.

W & L . . . . 20; CITADEL 0

The Citadel threatened only once on attack but had everything the scout reports had revealed about their tough defense. Sticking mostly to up-the-middle power, the Generals had halfback Jim Stark and Fullback Walt Michaels getting most of their two-hundred-and-fifty-one yards on the ground. Both piled up nearly 100 yards each carrying the ball and Stark had a thirty yard T.D. run erased by a penalty, one of three such scoring punches deprived him by officials during the year. His action gained "Back of the Week" honors in the Old Dominion. Touchdowns by Bocetti, Stark, and Hedge, on a pass from Bocetti. Actually, the Citadel was one of the best defensive units of the year with end Jerry DeLuca and center Sam Rubino making the Generals all opponent selection.

Stark hurdling West Virginia.

VIRGINIA 26

In what they themselves consider their poorest performance of the year, a miserably plotted second half cost the Generals their "big-one." Holding a 21-13 half-time lead, an overdose of conservatism unquestionably cost Washington and Lee the ball game. Virginia scored late in the fourth period bringing the Cavaliers within one point of the Generals. With little more than a minute to play, Bocetti called a pass pattern in a desperate effort to maintain possession through a mid-field first down. His daring, coming too late in the ball game backfired. Virginia intercepted and, on the first play from scrimmage, quarterback Rufus Barkley hit halfback Jerry Furst down the middle for a 45 yard scoring pass that broke the Generals' hearts. With half a minute remaining, Bocetti hit end Talbot Trammell with a long pass on Virginia's twenty and what would have appeared to be a certain score had the exhausted Trammel held the ball. This game will be replayed by the Monday Morning Quarterbacks as long as green grass grows on Old Dominion turfs.

Stark stymied by Virginia aerial.

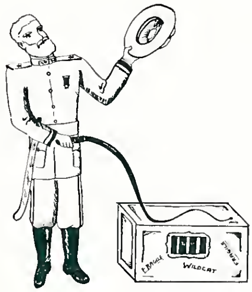
The Big Train rolls on.

Stark gains against Virginia.

W & L . . . . 47; DAVIDSON 12

It seemed that everyone wanted to get in the act at Davidson, North Carolina, where seven different Washington and Lee men contributed to a forty-seven to twelve rout of Davidson. Walt Michaels made it eight scorers with five extra points to his credit. Touchdowns came as Dave Waters and Wes Abrams scored in the first period, Randy Broyles and Ray Leister in the second and Jim Stark, Bay Arnold and Skippy Sideris in the third. The Generals coasted through the fourth period without a score to win easily. Wildcat scores came in the second and fourth periods. The first was as a result of a series of completed passes by Jack Ruth which took the ball down to the Washington and Lee five yard line. Davidson scored in the last few minutes on a pass from Ruth to Turk to make the final score 41 to 12.

Michaels stalled in plunge against Furman.



W & L 20
TENNESSEE . . . 27

Abrams searches for hole in the Louisville line.

IF the Generals had to select their poorest performance of the season it would be a combination of two half-games—their second half against Virginia and their first half against Tennessee. At the time of W & L's invitation to the Gator Bowl, General Neyland testified that Washington and Lee was as good as any team the Vols met all year. Against Neyland's men the Generals suffered most from two brilliant punt returns by Bob Rochichar (100 and 83 yards) and a 50 yard pass interception by Jimmy Hahn. Herky Payne scored the fourth Vol marker from scrimmage. That was all in the first half. With Gil Bocetti knocked cold early in the second quarter, Coach Barclay found he had a thoroughly competent T-quarterback on his bench, Dave Waters, whose only previous action had been as defensive safety man. Waters generated two touchdowns to add to the one the Gens got in the opening half and the Vols were anxiously eyeing the clock as the Virginians were scrambling for the ball in the closing moments.

VIRGINIA TECH . . . 7

Hedge

Without being uncharitable, the greatest thing that happened to Tech was a torrential rain that made Wilson Field look like a hog wallow. In a gridiron aquacade, Bocetti stuck almost exclusively to "inside" stuff under the impossible weather conditions; no pitchouts, virtually no passing and still lots of fumbles. But it was Joe McCutcheon, twice an all-state selection, who won Barclay's "blue-ribbon" for his skillful passing from the center position. The mud unquestionably contained the Generals offense and, under the prevailing conditions it was an impressive victory in a game where all the mud-bathed players looked alike. Guard Buck Conard distinguished himself by becoming the highest scoring guard in the Southern Conference. He got seven points—a T.D. from a blocked punt, and a pass reception for point-after-touchdown.

Stark on end sweep.

The finale of a four-year series, found the Generals eager to avenge a surprising 13-7 defeat by Delaware the year before. Coach Bill Murray's Blue Hens packed none of the Delaware power of earlier post-war years. Bocetti gave the Northerners an eyefull of what a T quarterback is supposed to do with a football. Faking the Delaware defenders dizzy, Gil guided half a dozen backs to 445 yards overland including a significant contribution of his own. Randy Broyles, shifty Sophomore from West Virginia, swept end for two touchdowns while a classmate, halfback Wes Abrams tossed in 82 yards of the Generals rushing. Stark got two touchdowns and Holt one, a forty-six yard romp through the middle.

W & L . . . . 33; LOUISVILLE 28

"That was the slowest three minutes I ever knew," Barclay sighed. After amassing a 20-0 half-time lead, something snapped in the Generals operations plan. With three minutes to go they were leading by only 26 to 21 and it looked like another Virginia debacle in the making. A pass interception by W & L line-backer Paul Giordani that went from midfield to the Louisville one yard line, broke off what was shaping up like a winning touchdown drive by the amazingly resurgent Kentuckians. Louisville added another on a 94 yard pass play after the kickoff which followed W & L's final score. Bocetti steadfastly froze out the frenetic Louisvillians in the final minutes. Bocetti said he could plainly see how Louisville had tied Miami in Florida the week before, since "Louisville had one of the best offensive backfields we played this year."

With fifteen Seniors on the field for their last home effort after four years of varsity football, the Generals were not to be denied any score they chose to compile. As Richmond's two sports editors agreed, "George Barclay could have made it 100 to nothing, if he had so desired." He didn't. With a halfback playing quarterback for the first time and three fullbacks rounding out the backfield in an all-Senior eleven, the Generals frolicked in the second half but became sensational when Senior Wally Oref threw the first pass he has ever tossed in a football game for a touchdown, the final score of the game. Walt Michaels who opened the Generals' scoring back in September, added three touchdowns and seven conversions to give him an 89 point total and second place in the Southern Conference scoring race. It was the Generals sixth straight Southern Conference victory and created the first league title in football for Washington and Lee since 1934.

WYOMING . . . 20

New Year's Day in Jacksonville proved to be a bitter disappointment for Washington and Lee supporters as the Big Blue fell before the Skyline Conference Champions from Laramie, Wyoming, by a two touchdown margin. The Generals couldn't cope with the talent of Wyoming's All-American tailback, Eddie Talboom, whose passes gained continually when his team failed to move on the ground. In the second period Talboom opened the scoring with an eight yard heave to Dick Campbell, and a little later scored himself on a two-yard plunge.

In contrast, the usually high-scoring Southern Conference Champs lacked the punch that characterized their regular season's play and fumbled twice when it looked as if they might go all the way. Though badly hurt by the loss of Walt Michaels who was not dressed for the game, Charlie Holt's performance at fullback left little to be desired as he gained 107 yards in 21 tries.

In the second half the Generals spotted Wyoming another touchdown on a 20 yard run across the middle by Melton, before they bounded back to play the Cowboys on better than even terms. Bocetti scored on a two-yard plunge to move the Generals back in the ball-game, but thereafter he was unable to engineer another score despite repeated threats.

Randy Broyles, Sophomore standout, looked very good and turned in some outstanding runs which gave the otherwise disappointed W & L rooters a little to cheer about. On the whole, the inability of the W & L secondary to turn back Talboom's aerial attack plus the fact that our own air game failed to materialize at all, cost us the ball game.

Nevertheless, the Bowl Bid was in itself a tribute to our great and very deserving football team.

BASKETBALL

The pre-season suspicion that this might be the year, proved to be a vain hope as the Comets won only eight of twenty-five games and finished only above V.M.I., Davidson and Furman in the final Southern Conference standing. Nevertheless, General rooters had quite a bit to cheer about as Captain Jay Handlan, a two time All-Stater, proved to be one of the nations outstanding ball players and drew praise from all sides. In addition to leading the Southern Conference scorers with a fabulous 27.6 average; Jay set a new Southern Conference record by pouring 66 points through the hoops against Davidson. He was selected on the ALL-Conference five and Captained the All-State team by virtue of his leading the balloting conducted by State sports writers. His achievements are all the more remarkable in that Handlan was the only consistant high scoring threat on the squad and consequently always drew the opponents best defensive man.

Bratches in to shoot.

Handlan under the backboard.

Hedge, Trammel and Scott looked increasingly good as the season reached its end, and there is no doubt that they would have been better yet, if football practice had not continued throughout December. This was a key factor in the loss of so many early season games. At the same time the loss of center "Shaky" Jones was a crippling blow. Howard Bratches, the only senior on the squad was a steadying influence in these early weeks when the lineup changed according to who was available.

Handlan shoots, Walden waits.

Among the Sophomores, Ben Walden, Jack Osborne and Bill Scott looked very promising and should develop rapidly. In addition, a strong Freshman team will furnish next year's varsity with more material than our campus has seen in quite a few years. Outstanding members of this team were Jim Rich, Jack Smith, Warren Dean, Freddie Siegler and Moore.

The best reason for the new feeling of optimism now prevalent in Lexington is that W&L has finally solved its coaching problems. The answer has come in the form of "Scotty" Hamilton, a former All-American at the University of West Virginia, who has brought more hustle and spirit to the General five than seen since pre-war days. His presence plus the return of Jay Handlan and all but one of this year's squad makes us join the many others in saying that next year could be "it."

WRESTLING

One of the brightest eras in Washington and Lee's athletic history came to an end on March 5 and 6, when Virginia Military Institute, captured the top rung in the annual Southern Conference Wrestling Tournament, ousting the defending Champion Generals.

After taking the dual meet Conference Championship, the Blue just wasn't up to par for the Tournament which saw the long-standing rivalry between W & L and V.M.I. reversed.

Only one General, Ted Lonergan in the 137 pound class, took the title. Three other Blue Matmen, Howie Davis, Joe Sconce and Ken Finley, reached the finals and came home with second place. Paul Weill took third and Jerry Jack turned in a fourth place performance. Three returning title holders were thus upset.

In the regular season performances, the Generals took four out of four against Conference Competition and captured two foreign matches. Davidson, V.P.I., North Carolina and Duke, lost to the Generals, along with Appalachian and Johns Hopkins. In defeating Appalachian, the Generals laid claim once again to the mythical dual meet title of the South. The score was sixteen to twelve.

All-Powerful Navy swept the Blue off their feet at Annapolis, and a good Virginia squad handed Coach Russ Cranes' team their first home defeat in four years in the final match of the season, 14 to 13.

Against Duke the Blue completed four years without a loss in the Southern Conference. Fans were treated to a match that wasn't decided until the final bout, where a draw gave the Generals a 14 to 11 nod and the dual meet trophy.

Lonergan, Sconce and Finley, all won bouts against Duke and completed four years of undefeated Conference Competition.

Despite the fact that the new Southern Conference rule which allows Freshmen to compete on Varsity teams, goes into effect in September, Coach Crane will have a tough time molding a new team. Lonergan, Sconce, Finley and Jack graduate this coming June. All of them have been mainstays of the team for the past four seasons.

However, Davis, Weill, and Morgan Lear will return to form a nucleus, with some help coming up from the Freshmen squad, as well as reserves from this year's team. Charlie Sipple, John Doughtery, Fred Staunton and Bob McCubbin should be ready for heavy duty come next winter.

The team was hampered by injuries and lack of strong reserve power from the start. Finley broke his ribs early in the season and did not return to action until late in the year; his spot was capably filled by Rick Marcus. Bob McCubbin dislocated his shoulder in the Appalachian meet and never returned to action. In addition, Paul Weill was sidelined for two matches with a cut over his right eye but he was replaced by Charlie Sipple in the 130 pound spot. Although the squad was disappointed in the Tournament results, Coach Crane deserves a good deal of praise not only for his fine coaching job but also for his excellent dual-meet record.

BASEBALL SEASON

The 1950 season proved to be strictly an average spring for the Generals as they wound up with an overall record of ten wins, twelve losses and one tie. The diamond men opened impressively with three straight wins but the spring vacation trip to Washington and surrounding areas was disastrous and resulted in four consecutive losses. Thereafter Captain Dick's men could never stay hot for any length of time and were unable to climb over their three in a row mark.

Though only a mediocre ball club W & L showed great promise for the future by fielding a Sophomore dominated team that was rich in talent but lacking in experience. Steadied by Captain Willis Woods, the teams leading hitter, and by Dude Agnor, an All-State contender at shortstop, the Generals played good ball but failed in the clinches when crucial runs were on base.

Jack Eubanks, Bill Mauk and Lacy Putney were all capable hurlers, while Bay Arnold was an outstanding backstop. In addition to centerfielder Woods, graduation took first baseman Thomas and outfielder Fahey, all of whom will be capably replaced by rising Juniors, Frank Summers, Don Shuck and Jack Holler. In the infield Dave Waters held down the hot corner, while Agnor and Ed Streuli left little to be desired in the way of a double play combination.

The Generals were plagued consistantly by injuries in their pitching department which put the burden of a large share of the mound duties on pitchers Eubanks and Putney. High hopes are held for the rising Sophomores, whose Freshman team was deep in pitching ability.

COACH ANDERSON

CREW

Crew took another big step forward in 1950 as its hard working oarsmen were pitted against some of the nations best teams. Though winning only two of six dual meets, the Generals were never outclassed and were in the thick of every race down to the finish.

Dartmouth and Rutgers fell before Coach Anderson's men while Boston University, Tampa, Rollins and Marietta led the Blue shell across the finish line. Although, this season was only Coach Anderson's second year in Lexington, he has been instrumental in raising Crew from comparative obscurity to one of the spring's leading sports. With almost all of his Junior studded crew returning in '51, "Swede" believes that next year should "reap the harvests" of this season's hard work.

TRACK

Washington and Lee's cindermen got off to a fast start in the track season. In the initial spring meet the Generals ran away from the University of Richmond by the score of 73 to 53. Tech outjumped and outran the Generals to the tune of 75½ to 55½, and then West Virginia University humiliated the Blue by a count of 107½ to 23½. Fairer days were to come, however, as the Generals bounced back to outdistance Davidson by a close 69½ to 61½ score, and then gather steam to defeat William and Mary by a figure of 74½ to 56½.

In the big six meet the Generals finished fourth, but the day shone brightly for Captain Pete White. The lanky hurdler scored 10 points that day and set a new meet record for the Big Six in the low hurdles.

That wasn't all either. Pete ran a 14.7 second 120 high hurdle to come in first in that event and tie W&L's existing record set in 1938 by J. P. Rogers.

The Generals were hurt in the distance events in mid-season when the mile and two mile star, Echols Hansbarger, became ill. The most improved man on the 1950 squad was half-miler Yates Trotter. Yates turned in some spectacular times for 880 distance. Pete White received the Forrest Fletcher Trophy for the third consecutive year for being high point man in the cinder sport for the year.

In all the Big Blue had a successful season on the oval with three wins and two defeats for dual meets.

LACROSSE

The Generals coachless stickmen closed the '51 campaign with a good 5-5-1 record. The victims included Maryland, North Carolina, Union, Rutgers, and Washington College, while Syracuse, Rensallear Poly., Loyola of Baltimore, Virginia and Duke succeeded in outscoring the Blue. The finale with Williams ended in a four hour 6-6 tie. Contributing to the defeat of powerful Maryland in the opener, were five Seniors who for four years have comprised the nucleus of Washington and Lee Lacrosse.

To these stalwarts and "Doc" Baxter, the Generals schedule maker, go the credit for the most successful season of the decade. Clements, Hill, Pacy, McDonald and Tongue formed this nucleus. Clements was named Goalie on the first string all-America team, while Tongue was placed on the second team. The other three were all awarded all-American mention. Fine play was contributed by everyone including next year's Co-Captains, Dave Bien and Dave Ryer and lettermen Bond, Patton, Gray, McDowell, Lane, Lear and Stieff.

Skirmish!

Lear passes off.

SOCCER

Under the tutelage of Coach Wilson Fewster, the soccermen had their best season in years boasting a 6-2-1 record that won them second place in the Southern Conference. The Generals also emerged as Virginia Champions, winning four and tying one in State competition. In contrast to previous years the booters attack was consistantly strong with their ability to score frequently on corner kicks and crosses from the outside. Pizitz, Rockwell and Dietrich and Whitney combined beautifully on offense, while Hough, Lenfest, Slaughter and Captain Gillespie supported well from the halfbacks. Sophomore Goalie Carl Rumpp was outstanding in the Conference and a powerful defensive asset along with fullbacks Glickstein and Schenkel.

Maryland and Duke were the Generals only conquerors, while Virginia, Roanoke (twice) North Carolina, North Carolina State and R.P.I. fell before the W & L team. With only two Seniors on the squad, and a number of outstanding Freshmen on the way up, the Generals threaten to be powerful contenders in the years to come. Coach Fewster, a Lacross All-American at Johns Hopkins, contributed both his ability and enthusiasm to soccer and was, more than anyone else, responsible for the molding of such a good and successful team.

GOLF

1950 proved to be another good year for the Blue Golfers as they swept to the State Title and boasted an impressive 7-2 record. Washington and Lee placed fourth behind Wake Forest, North Carolina and Duke, in what was reputedly the fastest Conference in the nation.

The season opened with a dual match against Ohio University, which had been one of the only two teams to defeat the Generals in '49; this match was held at White Sulphur Springs where both teams were the guests of the Greenbriar. This marked the Generals first appearance at the Greenbriar, but they are scheduled to meet Harvard, Colgate and Ohio University in a return engagement in 1951. Though hurt by the loss of graduating Seniors, the Generals can rely on men such as Wes Brown, Dave Mahan and Bill Hall to furnish a strong nucleus for the coming season.

TENNIS

Washington and Lee's 1950 Tennis team improved on the preceding year's record by winning two of eight matches. The squad lacked both the top strength and depth of a successful team, factors which put it in a class below Virginia, V.P.I. and Davidson. The netmen managed to defeat Hampden-Sydney twice. As the first H-S match had been rained out when the score was knotted at four all, the number one doubles counted for both when the second match was played. Bouldin and Rockwell prevailed but Knudsen and Lethbridge were the real heroes of the day when they closed out the last doubles match with a series of beautiful volleys.

Julian Mohr had the best individual record of the season with five wins against two losses. He excelled with consistancy from backcourt. Swinnarton exhibited fine, flashing net tactics and Powell a good all-court game. Inability to maintain their best potential was the squad's chief failing.

Front Row, Left to Right: Rockwell, Swinnarton, Bouldin, Powell, Schlesinger, Mohr. Back Row: Day, Dietrich, Knudson, Seger, Lane.

SWIMMING

In the aquatic department, Coach Cy Twombly again turned in a splendid season. His charges literally swam away with three victories, but were edged in a fourth try by a powerful Virginia Tech outfit in the first part of the year. The single loss suffered this year was one of two in the past three years—a record worthy of admiration.

This year's squad was bolstered by such notable sophomores as Alex Thayer, Parker Smith, Bob Goodman, and Alex DeVolpi, and the Bill Ried-John Williamson combination in the 220 and 440 events. The ranks were completed by Randy Whittle and the experienced and able returning lettermen, Bill Hall, Chuck McCain and Sam Hollis.

In retrospect, it might be said that the success of the team was a result of the diversity of their skills.

On the springboard, outstanding performances were given by Ray Leister, Jim Gallivan, and Tom Gardner, whose feats were often instrumental in turning the tide of victory.

The outlook for next year is rather uncertain. Two mainstays of this year's groups, DeVolpi and Smith, are certain to return, and that in itself is a sound nucleus for any team.

CROSS COUNTRY

The loss of Captain Echols Hansbarger, one of the best distance runners in Washington and Lee's Cross-Country history, was instrumental in causing the relatively poor record this season. In addition the failure of key runners to turn out this year proved very damaging and dealt the death blow to Coach Norm Lord's hopes. Along with these difficulties, the departure of Coach Lord to the Armed Services, minimized the interest displayed.

Moffett was the team's best performer and was supported in his efforts by Iler, Kaplan, Wyatt, and Ransome. Though the Cross-Country men were conquered in every meet, the return of the spectacular Hansbarger next season should strengthen the squad immeasurably.

THE DANCES

THE DANCES IN RETROSPECT

The Spring Dances of 1950 found the air filled with festivity, relaxing weather, and just what one would expect for the lazy, spring-time affair in the music of Sunny Dunham and his orchestra. The green arbor-like effect of the entrance, the eerie atmosphere of the dance—all were in perfect accord with the Midsummer Night's Dream theme of the weekend. Jim Paradies, president of the dance set, and Kit Rittenburg of Vassar College led the figure at Friday night's formal. Saturday presented the couples with a host of activities which included picnics, a crew race, an afternoon concert, and a cocktail party. The dance on Saturday night gave the weekend its final touch of success and informality as the campus saw the close of a long-to-be-remembered dance set.

The end of the school year is always accentuated by one of the most enjoyable social events of the year. The slow, dreamy, two-step music of Claude Thornhill was admirably intermingled with the nostalgic farewells and fond hopes for future success which always accompany the Final Dance Set. All of the social events of the weekend, from the Phi Delt's lime-rickey party through the band concerts, were brought to a successful climax by the Final Ball which was led by President Rody Davenport and his date Miss Betsy Sumner of Vassar College. It was truly an event which the departing seniors will long remember.

The social season of 1950-51 was officially opened by the Openings Dance Set. All of the color, richness, and good times of the Fall Season were incorporated in the Thanksgiving Ball theme of the set. The Cotillion Club formal, concert, and all of the other events of the weekend were ably directed by Set President Steve Coco, who was accompanied in the Cotillion Club figure by Meg Dunbar of Mary Baldwin College. Both dances of the weekend, the Sophomore Formal and the Cotillion Club Formal, were featured by the restrained music of Dean Hudson who put the final touches on a remarkable beginning of the year's social life.

With final exams over and all of the worries of the preceding semester eliminated, the social season slipped into high gear as the 1951 version of Fancy Dress got under way. Summing-up some forty-four years of experience, this year's Fancy Dress afforded everyone the superlative in dance sets. The dress figure of Friday night was led by Howard Bratches and Pat Kelley of Larchmont, New York. The work of President Bratches was exemplary of the finest to be expected—from the Spanish Carmen theme to the colorful street scene decorations. The music of maestro Skitch Henderson added the final touch of superlatives as the students of Washington and Lee saw one of the finest and most enjoyable Fancy Dresses of all time.

SPRING DANCES

1. Hail to the chiefs . . .
2. More dancing and less talking.
3. Sonny Dunham fanfares the Spring.
4. Catch that guy . . . !
5. Take two, they're small.

1. There's beer in the yard.
2. A Phi Delt lawn party.
3. A smoky Kappa Sig corner at the Pine Room.
4. After the dance was over . . .

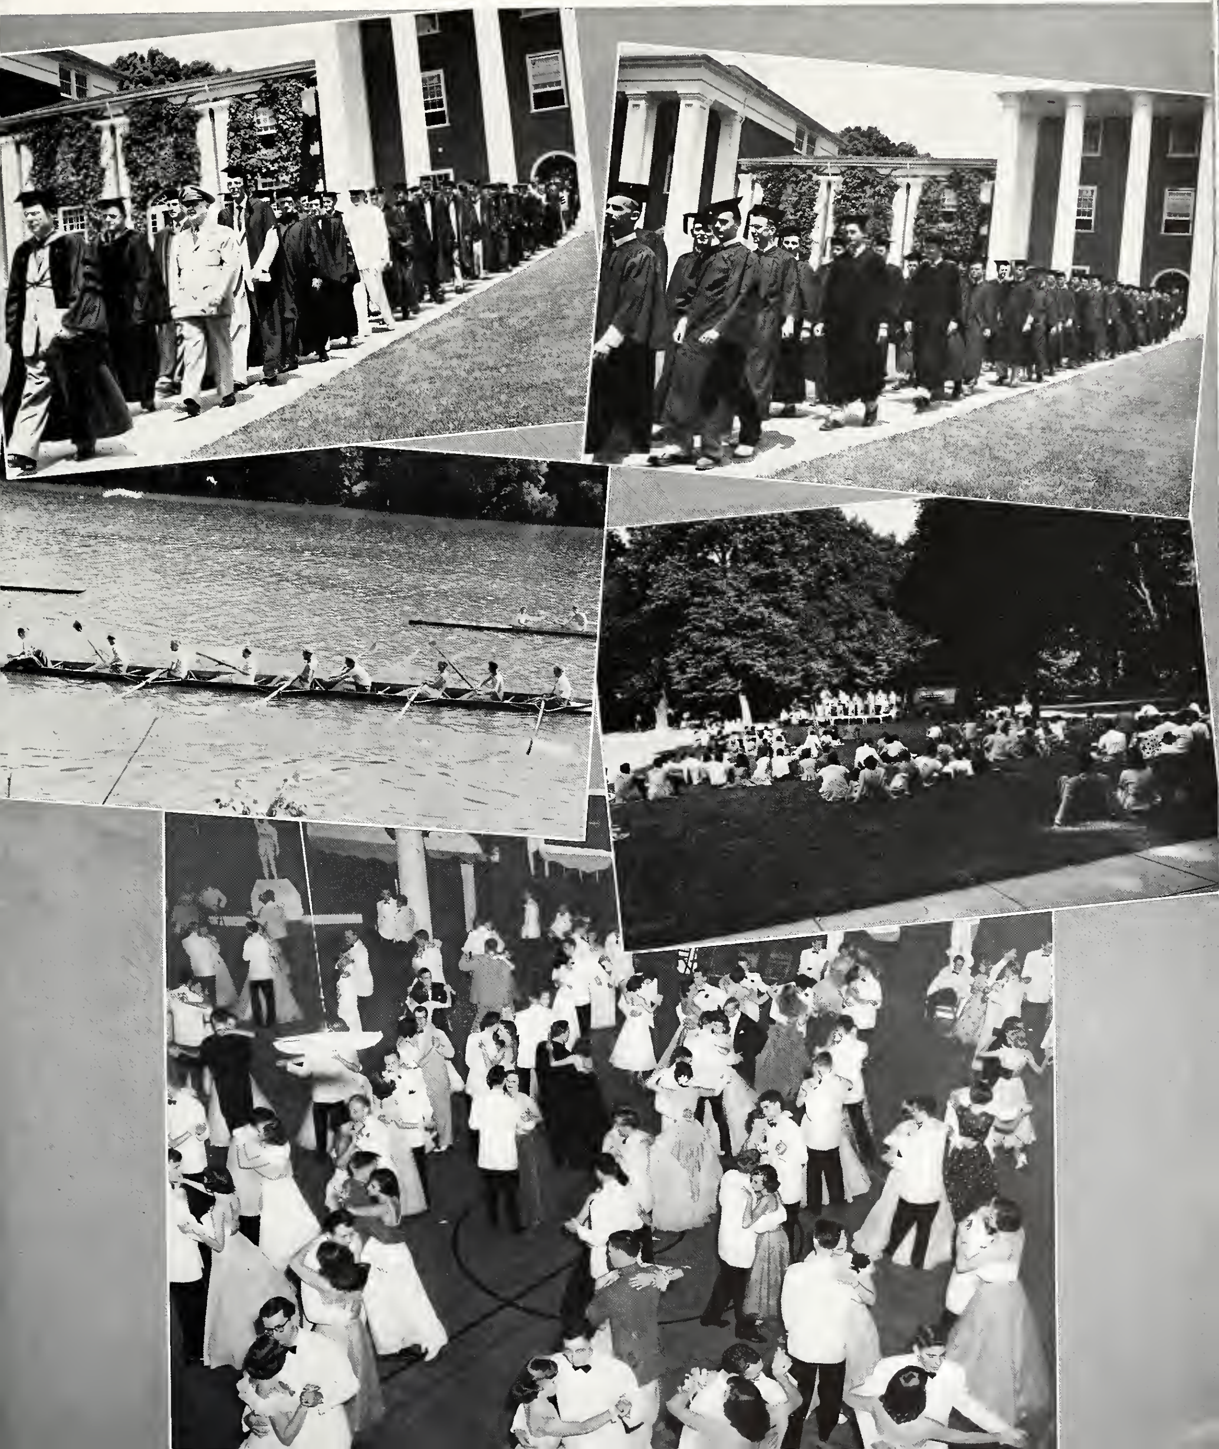
SPRING DANCES

FINAL DANCES

1. Senior Class officers and dates.
2. Promenade of the last mile . . .
3. "Oh How They Danced."
4. Early morning shuffle on a clearing floor.
5. Some people seem to get into every picture . . .

FINAL DANCES

1. Khaki is in the Academic line once more.
2. Sheepskin bound but the world still seems cold.
3. A motley crew—Leif Anderson at the helm.
4. Hangover on the lawn.
5. The last gasp . . . and the closing dance.



OPENING DANCES

1. "High Society."
2. Steve was blazee.
3. In some secluded corners.
4. The maestro, his lady and the Band.
5. They also serve who only stand and wait.

OPENING DANCES

1. Sophomore Class President John Bowman and first lady.
2. This is the eternal cocktail hour.
3. Crowded floor after the main figure.
4. What doesn't happen at a dance set . . .
5. Everybody got in the act.

FANCY DRESS

1. Senor Henderson receiving the inaugural rose.
2. The crowded arena of the musical "Bull Fight."
3. Picadors and Piccadillies.

LYNCHBURG ENGRAVED ANNUALS ARE BUILT UPON YEARS OF EXPERIENCE
AS SPECIALISTS IN THE FIELD OF SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS

IN successfully fulfilling the requirements of the modern College Annual Staff we have combined a comprehensive and systematic servicing program with that high standard of quality so essential in the production of fine yearbooks. Lynchburg engraved annuals are built by an organization specializing on school annuals exclusively, thereby assuring each staff of the personal and intelligent assistance so necessary in the planning and designing of a truly satisfactory book.
